

2010

Melodie Holden
President, VSI

In gratitude,

Thank you for offering your support to women around the world.

A gift has been made in your honor to support VSI's mission of improving women's health in developing countries.

Thank You

Women are social and economic providers. Strong families, strong communities and strong countries require that women are supported.

VSI is a nonprofit organization committed to improving women's health in developing countries by creating access to effective and affordable technologies on a large scale.
